

By leaving a gift in your Will today,
you can help us to save motorcyclist's lives in the future.

DocBike is a registered charity, created by emergency service professionals as a result of attending serious motorcycle collisions and wanting to bring an end to the life-changing pain and suffering associated with bike crashes.

Over 19,000 motorcyclists are injured on the UK's roads every year. We're asking for your help to keep bikers on two wheels, by leaving a gift in your will to the DocBike charity.

Making a Will is an important responsibility. We understand that if you have close relatives, their interests will naturally come first. However, when you have provided for them, you may like to consider leaving a gift to DocBike.

For many people, the content of their Will is a very private matter, whereas others like to talk to us and find out more about the charity before they decide to leave a gift. Please get in touch if this is the case. We promise to respect your privacy and deal with your enquiry with professionalism and sensitivity.

Once you've decided how you would like to leave your gift, it's important to get it written into a Will. It is advisable to contact a professional Will writer or local solicitor who can help you. You can change your mind about your Will at any point, and you don't need to tell us if you do.

If you have already made your Will, a bequest to the DocBike charity may be added to it by way of a Codicil. A Codicil is a way to add a gift to a charity from your latest Will. A Will writer or solicitor can help you with this, or you can download a form from our website or we will post one to you on request.

A gift for the future!

Leaving a gift in your Will is a wonderful thing to do and will help us to continue saving lives for years to come. It costs over £60,000 to put a fully equipped DocBike out on the roads. Leaving a gift in your Will is an incredible way of knowing that after you've gone, your legacy will continue.
